

Cookie Policy of chatbotfast.com

Last updated: July 26, 2025

1. General Information

This Cookie Policy explains what cookies are, how we use them, and how you can manage them while using the chatbotfast.com website.

2. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that a website sends to your browser and which are stored on your device. They allow the website to recognize your device on subsequent visits and improve the website's functionality.

3. Purposes of Using Cookies

We use cookies on our website to:

- Ensure the proper functioning of the website (e.g., maintaining logged-in user sessions),
 - Recognize users during login and authorization processes,
 - Analyze website traffic using Google Analytics,
 - Protect the website against attacks and abuse.

4. Types of Cookies Used on the Website

We use the following categories of cookies:

- Necessary — essential for the website’s operation, e.g., session maintenance and security,
- Analytical — collect anonymous data about website usage (e.g., Google Analytics),
- Functional — remember user settings to improve user experience (e.g., language preferences).

5. Consent to Cookies and Managing Them

To comply with GDPR and other privacy regulations:

- Upon your first visit, a cookie consent banner (CMP) is displayed, allowing you to give informed, voluntary, and explicit consent to the use of specific categories of cookies (other than necessary cookies, which are always set),
- You may accept all, reject some, or manage your cookie preferences,
- Consent can be withdrawn at any time using the consent management tool on our website or by changing your browser settings,
- By default, only necessary cookies required for the website’s operation are loaded,
- Refusing analytical and functional cookies may limit some website features.

6. Cookies Used on the Website
